The next highest competitors for the honor were Phoenix lodge, No. 43, of New Haven, Wolcott lodge, No. 32, of Torrington and Silver City lodge, No. 3, of Meriden, in the order named. The awarding of the banner is always an occasion of great interest, with the grand master workman and various others of the grand lodge officers present. The banner has been held during the past year by Housatonic Valley lodge, No. of Cornwall Bridge, an enterprising and popular lodge which has twice now had the honor of winning the trophy. A markedly successful year for the Order of the Eastern Star was shown at the 37th annual meeting of the grand chapter held in Hartford on Thursday. Among the 400 delegates attending were the two representatives from Sachem chapter, No. 57, of this city, Worthy Matron Esther P. NURSES' ANNUAL MEETING.

Encouraging Reports from Connecticut Training School.

The 37th annual meeting of the Connecticut training school for nurses was held at the dormitory on the New Haven hospital grounds Monday.

The association, which was staffed in a small way and with a few nurses, graduated 22 nurses the past year and now has about 76 at the home.

Report of the financial condition was the most favorable for years. The society has received $12,000 from the estate of the late Col. Addis and $2,000 from the Day estate, making $14,000, which has been added to the invested funds.

Fred Beausoliel, a pocketbook. Consolations—Mrs. Cook and John Lafferty. The judgas were P. H. Ethier, Joseph Marshall, J. B. Caron, A. J. Wholey and M. J. Murphy.
Interest was strong to see who would receive the $5 gold piece, and it went to Joseph P. Brunelle for holding the lucky number. Vocal and instrumental selections, which delighted all, were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. A. Morin of Taftville. The general arrangements for the evening were under the direction of Mrs. P. H. Ethier, Mrs. S. Sabourin and Mrs. H. P. Beausoliel as a committee.

Royal Arosaum.

Leathers of Westwood, Mass., gave an instructive illustrated lecture on Pythianism. He was introduced by Chancellor Commander Sumner W. Armstrong of Wauregan lodge. The lantern was handled by Fred W. Marion. The lecturer told of the growth of the order, which now has 700,000 members and 8,000 lodges, and he advocated it from the basis of home protection, as it furnishes insurance at cost, safe-guarding the man who needs it most, and having a worthy record in its 47 years of existence.

Degree of Pocahontas.

Foresters' hall on Monday evening was well filled with enjoyers of whist, for the evening of cards conducted by the Neosha club, was one of the pleasantest of the winter series. Those to take the pretty prizes were the following: Miss Eva Clish, 40, a creamer and sugar bowl; Mrs. Freeman, 38, handkerchiefs; Peter Flynn, 41, a box of cigars; Mr. Davis, 39, handkerchiefs; consolation prizes to Mrs. G. Herbert Rich and Robert McNickle.

Cake and coffee were the refreshments and announcement was made of a home whist, Feb. 9, with Mrs. Button on Franklin street, while there is Knights of Columbus.

A special meeting of White Cross council, No. 13, on Sunday afternoon for the working of the third degree on a large class of candidates will bring out a big attendance of its members, as well as visitors from the councils in Willimantic, Westerly, Taftville, New London and Montville, Several of those in the class will be from the councils in Montville and Taftville. EDSON S. BISHOP.

States marshal, to succeed Edson S. Bishop of Hartford and Norwich, was not unexpected in political circles since the defeat of the sheriff at the polls last November.

Marshal Edson Bishop's commission expired in December and his renomination not being made at the usual time, the expectancy was that Senators Bunkeley and Brandegee had someone else in view. Sheriff Hawley had always been a staunch supporter of the senior senator, and labored hard for Senator Brandegee two years ago, as against Congressman Hill of his own county. In the recent senatorial canvass the sheriff was understood to be standing by his former choice and was an anti-McLean man. His defeat as sheriff, a position he had held for many years, bringing with it political power in his section of the state, was due to the general trend of the vote to democratic candidates, to the activity of the socialists and to the disaffection of republicans growing out of the sheriff's work against Congressman Hill in the senatarial fight of 1909.

Edson S. Bishop has completed his third term as United State marshal, during which time about 1,000 civil cases and in the neighborhood of 500 criminal cases have come under his supervision. He handled annually between $8,000 and $10,000 of government money. He was first apointed United States marshal on August 8, 1898, under President McKinley and has received two reappointments since that time.
